ALM 21

"Adults Learning Mathematics – Inside and Outside the Classroom"
Bern Switzerland 29th June – 2nd July 2014

It is not too late to submit your paper or register for the conference!

Practitioners and researchers are invited to submit proposals on issues related to the theme of the conference. The session types range from paper presentations to workshops and topic groups. We encourage all presenters to involve delegates in interactive sessions. To submit a proposal complete the proposal form on the conference website <http://www.alm-online.net/alm-21/> or email the conference organiser Sonja Beeli (sonja.beeli@edu.unibe.ch).

Conference Programme

The three days of the conference will focus on the following aspects:

Day 1: Learning inside the classroom

Day 2: Learning outside the classroom

Day 3: Coordinating learning inside and outside the classroom (Please note:- there will be a simultaneous translation of all presentations English/German on Day 3)

Become a Member of ALM (Our brochure is attached)

ALM aims to promote the advancement of education by supporting the establishment and development of an international research forum for adult mathematics and numeracy by:

- Encouraging research into adults learning mathematics at all levels and disseminating the results of this research for the public benefit
- Promoting and sharing knowledge, awareness and understanding of adults learning mathematics, to encourage the development of the teaching of mathematics to adults at all levels.

ALM feels like a very large family that shares a common interest from a broad range of perspectives. It is warmly supportive and friendly critical, embracing novice and veteran opinions with respect. ALM welcomes all those who are interested in learning mathematics both practitioners and researchers. Please support ALM by renewing your membership for 2014 and encouraging new members to join our family. Visit <http://www.alm-online.net/>.
