

John O'Donoghue is Associate Professor (Emeritus) of Mathematics Education at the University of Limerick. He is co-founder and served as Director of the National Centre for Excellence in Mathematics and Science Teaching and Learning (NCE-MSTL) at the University of Limerick from 2008 – 2014. He is founder and past director of the Mathematics Learning Centre, UL. He served as Chair of ALM from 1997 – 2001. He is an active researcher in mathematics education with a special focus on mathematics teacher education (Secondary), adult mathematics education/numeracy, service mathematics teaching, and mathematics learner support (HE). He has served on several national committees including the national STEM Education Review Group that presented its report recently to the Minister for Education and Skills.